Mr. and Mrs. R Anton Steffans entertained in Alfresco fashion last Saturday evening in appreciation of those who assisted with a play recently presented by Mrs. Ould's class. Lanterns were used in the cluster to illuminate the improvised park in the grove adjoining the lawn. Old and new games were enjoyed until refreshments were served inside. The table was spread with a lace cloth, with maiden ferns and coral candles forming the centerpiece. A coral and green color scheme was also carried out in the desserts and favors.

Those present besides Mr. and Mrs Steffans and Mrs. Mozelle Foster, who assisted in serving, were Misses Lula and Ina Harris, Frances Thomas, Ruth McFaden, Margarette Foster, Lawrence Harris, Lewis Harris, Alfred Harris, Robert Bryant and Berkley Ferguson.

Summer Whimsies About Food

WARM weather plays pranks with appetites. Haven't you known your well-regulated family who like the things they are supposed to like, and enjoy their meals nine months in the year, suddenly go berserk about food, when the temperature rises?

For this malady, dietitians prescribe an entire change of menace, and a distinct brightening up of the table. If your table items have been white or pastel shades all winter, use some of the new dark linens. Change everything. And above all things change your menus. Serve colorful foods. Do you know the infinite possibilities of change of color and flavor by using tomatoes plentifully on your menus?

Healthful preparation will pep up jaded appetites, and suddenly your whole dinner will appear appetizing—no matter what the thermometer says.

Proof of the Pudding

Tomato Ring with Persian Melon Salts: Strain the contents of one No. 2 can of tomatoes, add one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar and bring to boiling. Soak five teaspoons plain gelatine in one-half cold water and dissolve in the hot tomato juice. Cool set, add one-half cup of mayonnaise, pour into a wet ring mold and set in the refrigerator to stiff fen. Meanwhile cut a Persian melon in small balls and marinate in French dressing. When ready to serve, turn the tomato ring out onto a round platter and fill the center with melon balls. Around the ring place small sprigs of lettuce filled with mayonnaise. This serves eight persons.

Steak Casserole: Cut one pound slice of round steak in four servings, salt and pepper each piece and roll in flour. Brown the meat in drippings, then lay them in a casserole and slice over the top one onion, one carrot and one-half of a green pepper. Pour over the contents of one can of tomato soup and two tablespoons water. Cover and bake in a slow water, 350 degrees—for one and one-half hours or until the meat is tender. This serves four persons.

Calvin H. Robinson, president of the Appomattox chapter of the Young Democratic Clubs, has called a meeting of that organization for Monday afternoon at four o'clock at the court house.

The purpose of the meeting will be to name delegates to the state Young Democratic Convention to be held in Richmond at the John Marshall Hotel September 13 and 14. Ohio to Pay for Horses Morgan Stole in 1864

Columbus, Ohio.—Seventy-one years after General Morgan and his Confederate raiders entered southern Ohio and carried off provisions and other booty, the state of Ohio has acquiesced in a claim against his troopers.

The legislature has agreed to pay a claim of $600 occasioned by the theft of some horses by Morgan and his men during the war between the states.

Ulysses Grosvenor Dorsey retires the item. Leoda Burke tryler, of Cincinnati, will receive a check for $300 from the state of Ohio.

The claim was filed with the state ... came up it was shunted aside, although the federal government sent the state a check years ago to meet the obligation.

Ray Finds Vessels or Planes 50 Miles at Sea

Highlands, N. J.—A new "mystery ray," which is said to be able accurately to detect the presence of enemy ships more than 50 miles off the coast even though the ships are drifting without their engines running, has been perfected by the United States signal corps laboratory at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

The new ray, which can also be applied to the detection of high flying aircraft, is expected, if successful, to revolutionize modern naval and air warfare, it was said, for by use of the ray, enemy craft can be located and gunfire accurately directed to their positions.

Whether or not this new ray bears any relation to the present electrical impelled sonic altimeters or depth finders and submarine detectors could not be learned, as the entire device has been enveloped in great secrecy. The ordnance department at Aberdeen, Md., also has recently developed sonic devices for locating airplanes to use in connection with anti-aircraft guns. The first practical test of the new ray is expected to be held shortly at the lighthouse station on the Navesink hills.

Potato Dry and Sound After 83 Years in House

Melbourne, Victoria.—A potato which had been stored between the walls and under dry for 83 years has just been discovered at Myrtleford.

It is the treasured property of Walter Mummery. One day his mother, a pioneer in the district who lived to a ripe old age, but tended a few tussocky potatoes for dinner. One of them, cut in half, was placed on a shelf over the primitive fireplace. It remained there for 20 years. The second and last hard-ned it until it became, in substance and appearance, a reddish brown stone. Then it was given as a curiosity to Mummery, who went on preserving it.

Tougher than any "iron ration." It could now be boiled for months a still not be "done."

Explorer Declares Peak Unclimbabl

Vancouver, B. C.—Mount Vancouver, most impregnable of Canada's mountain peaks, never will be scaled on foot, Bradford Washburn, noted mountain climber, believes.

Washburn is the leader of the Washburn expedition which has found many hitherto unknown peaks in the Yukon territory.

Mount Vancouver lies in northwestern Yukon. Washburn flew over the peak in an airplane and said it was "utterly impregnable."

"It is one of the most amazing mountain masses I have ever seen. It rises to an altitude of nearly 10,000 feet from the flat snowfields of the Hubbard glacier in one gigantic cliff of ice and rock, without a single climbable angle."

Buckingham Mother And 3 Children All Perish In Flames

Husband Held Back From Going To Rescue Of Family In Burning Home

In one of the worst tragedies in the annals of Buckingham county, a mother and three of her children were burned to death in their home at Buckingham court house at 10:30 Tuesday morning.

They were:

Mrs. Thomas Land, 25, the mother.

Bernell Land, 9.

Margaret Land, 7.

Eleanor Lond, 5.

Mrs. Millie Wheeler, Mrs. Land's mother escaped from the burning dwelling, as did Essie Land, the oldest daughter, 12 years old.

According to Mrs. Henry LeSeur, next door neighbor of the Lands, and an eye witness of the tragedy, in an exclusive interview to the Times Virginian, Mrs. Land and her children were upstairs cleaning a bed springs with gasolene. A half gallon jar of gas had been purchased from a nearby service station, and was beside the bed. A taper was doubtless lighted to burn off the cleaned springs, whereupon it is evident the gas jar caught, igniting the building.

Several hundred people gathered, but all efforts to rescue the doomed family were in vain.

Mrs. Land was at his farm at the time, but quickly hurried to the scene. It required several strong men to hold him and keep him from going into the falling building.

The ashes of the four bodies were removed at 1 o'clock to the Duncan funeral parlor in Dillwyn.

Mrs. Wheeler had just come downstairs from where the cleaning was going on, or she would doubtless have perished too. She was under a doctor's care, yesterday. Funeral services were held today.

Byrd For Tax On All Bonds

Votes For Borah Measure To Do Away With Tax Exempt Securities

(Special to Times Virginian)

Washington, Aug. 21.— An amendment to the tax bill offered by Senator Borah provides for the taxation of all future issues of government bonds that are tax exempt. This amendment was adopted by a vote of 40 to 39. Senator Harry Flood Byrd, of Virginia, voted in the affirmative.

Some time ago senator Byrd introduced an amendment to the constitution which would provide for the taxation of all municipal, state and government bonds, which are now tax exempt. He likewise introduced a bill providing for the taxation of future issues of government bonds.

When this bill was introduced, senator Byrd called attention to the fact that nearly $90,000,000,000 of tax exempt bonds provide a refuge for the rich of the country to invest their money so as to avoid the payment of taxes. He regards the taxation of tax-exempt securities as essential to an equalization of the tax burden which becomes more imperative by reason of the general increase in taxation which must occur because of the present expenditures of the government.

Farmers Get $13,000 In Leaf Checks

Over $40,000 Has Been Paid To Dark Leaf Growers In Appomattox

Approximately 500 checks, totaling $13,786.05, and representing the second adjustment payment on the 1934 dark tobacco crop, came in Monday of this week to be distributed to Appomattox county farmers from the office of the county agent, R. B. Hudgins.

About 60 more payments are yet to come, and will run the total up above $15,000.

The first payment on the 1934 crop, received last year, totaled $13,379.79. The 1934 rental payment amounted to $11,014.86. This means that under the AAA, the dark tobacco farmers of this county have received over $40,000 in cash payments.

These payments have undoubtedly done much to help business conditions in Appomattox.

In addition to the payments to dark tobacco growers, some 28 bright tobacco growers in the county have and will receive payments.

The new flue cured contracts are now in the office of the county agent and will be presented to the growers in the county within a few weeks as soon as allotments are worked out.

Funeral of Mrs. Lucado

On August 19, the death angel visited the home of Mrs. Maude Lucado, widow of the late Joseph H. Lucado, and took her away. She was born October 6, 1882, and had been a great sufferer for many months, but bore it with a Christian spirit and a love for God. Mrs. Lucado had been a life-long member of New Hope Baptist church.

Her body was laid to rest by the side of her husband in the family burying ground, where a large crowd of her friends and kinsfolk had gathered to pay the last tribute of respect to one whom they had known and loved so well.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, the Rev. O. G. Burnette. The choir sang: "How Firm a Foundation" and "What A Friend We Have in Jesus."

She leaves surviving her seven children: Mrs. Catherine Perdue, Mrs. Lottie Marks, Lucile, Herbert and Edwin Lucado, of Appomattox, and Robert Lucado, of Lynchburg, and Raymond Lucado, of Los Angeles, California. Also, the following brothers and sisters: R. W. Morris, J. D. Morris, L. J. Morris, W. M. Morris; Mrs. S. A. Gilbert, Mrs. Oasie Ferguson, Mrs. Lillie Ferguson, Mrs. J. L. Gordon, Mrs. M. F. Bingham of Appomattox and C. L. Morris, of Richmond.
